Sun Safe Practices

QSHBA performances and some rehearsals might require members to be in direct sunlight. QSHBA actively minimises the risk of sun damage, however, this can only be done with the co-operation of all members.

QSHBA always attempts to maximise usage of natural shade and/or provide shade facilities however, all members should:

- Wear uniform hat when not directly "on stage".
- Use sunscreen (30+ or more),
- Re-apply sunscreen at the recommended intervals,
- During "off stage" times, remain in the shade as much as is possible,
- Advise a leadership team member at any time the member feels that sun burn (damage) is about to occur,
- Wear sunglasses when practicable and possible,
- Understand that dehydration is also a form of sun damage and therefore, drink adequate amounts of water. (Flavoured water or water with other additives, is not recommended as a protection against dehydration),
- Have a personal water bottle carried in the QSHBA water bottle carrier provided,
- Understand that overheating is also form of sun damage and report any instances of feeling unwell even if you think it is not related to the sun or heat,
- Understand that cold or overcast weather conditions do not prevent sun damage.

Loan Instruments

QSHBA offers some instruments on loan to students if required. Whilst there is no "Rental" fee, there is a security deposit of $100.00 required which, is refundable on safe return of the instrument to QSHBA. In addition, borrowers are required to arrange and pay for an annual service on the instrument. (This service would be your responsibility if it was your own instrument. Additionally, when the instrument is no longer needed, you are required to have it serviced before returning the instrument.

CHILD SAFETY

QSHBA is unable to supervise Children when they leave the band room or, a performance venue. This means that there is no safety net in other parts of the rehearsal building and, outside the building or, away from the performance venue.

It is therefore requested that handover of children to QSHBA will occur in the band room or at the performance venue and, handover back to parents will also occur in the band room or performance venue. This is especially important in the middle of the year when darkness comes early in the evening. If you give permission to your children to leave without parental escort, please advise QSHBA.

Please do last minute checks of our communication systems to verify rehearsal/performance venues and times.

Since Covid, some old habits/practices no longer apply within QSHBA:

- Playing someone else's wind instrument(s) is no longer permitted,
- Emptying condensation water which has accumulated inside instruments is no longer to emptied onto the Band room, or Venue, floor. (see requirements below)
